H. H. CHAMBERLAIN GIVEN PREMIUM FOR COTTON

WALKERS CREEK FARMER BRINGS IN FIRST YIELD OF 1926 COTTON CROP

H. H. Chamberlain of Walkers Creek, brought in the first bale of 1926 cotton Monday afternoon.

The bale was ginned at Batte's No. 2 gin in Cameron and weighed 510 pounds in the press. The bale was classed good middling and was sold for 16c per pound. The bale and the seed brought $95.60.

The business men of Cameron made up a premium through a list circulated by Frank Brock who is with Mr. Batte, and $137.95 was subscribed.

In discussing the premium Mr. Chamberlain said: "I sincerely appreciate the splendid interest displayed in the marketing of the first bale of 1926 cotton. The premium given me is very much appreciated and shows the business men are interested in the farmers, and their willingness to offer this premium should be an icentive for the farmers to bring their cotton to market in Cameron."

The 1926 cotton crop is said to bid fair for a normal production, although the crop generally will be about 30 days late this year. Leaf worm and boll worm are being combated by the farmers of this county and indications are the pest will be eliminated.

COOKING EXPERT WILL DEMONSTRATE RANGES

TEXAS PUBLIC UTILITIES CO. WILL HOLD COOKING SCHOOL HERE

Cooking demonstrations on L. & H. electric ranges will be conducted in the local office of the Texas Public Utilities Company by Miss Esther Higgins, expert domestic economist. The demonstrations, beginning Friday and continuing through next week, will be held each afternoon from 2:30 until 5 o'clock. Everyone interested in cooking of any kind is urged to attend, as Miss Higgins will disclose interesting information on economic and scientific preparation of foods.

One of the oldest and most reliable stove manufacturing concerns builds the L. & H. ranges. The company is backed by forty years of experience in the correct building of cooking apparatus and is offering one of the most complete and up-to-date line of electric ranges on the market.

The electrical way of cooking has proved itself the easy way. Popularity of electric ranges is shown by the increasing number that is being used by modern housewives. There is a cleanliness, a convenience, a superior performance, a economical demand upon the housewife's time and energy that far overshadows the use of other methods of cooking.

Long sought-for results in retaining desired juices of meats and salts of vegetables are now secured by use of the electric range. Ventilation in other types of ranges allow these qualities to be cooked away in vapor, while the insulated oven of the electric range, requiring practically no ventilation, keeps these tasty qualities in the foods.

Col. E. M. Mays of Minerva was an interested attendant at the Masonic meeting last Thursday evening when his friend Henry Davis received his degrees.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hughes of Maysfield are enjoying a visit to Alabama relatives.

TWO YEARS SUPPLY PER FAMILY RESULT OF WORK

DEMONSTRATION AGENT WILLIAMS SHOWS FAMILIES WAY TO LIVE AT HOME

With two years supply of canned meats, vegetables and various other foods an entire community of colored farmers living in the blackland belt at Davilla, acting under instruction from demonstration agent, Williams, have found the way to live at home and increase their bank earnings.

Near 28,000 cans of food stuff have been put up by these farm families. The number of cans will average 700 to the family in that community, enough, according to Agent Williams, for a two years supply.

Agent Williams is making successful headway among other communities of Milam county where colored farmers live. His work has been widely commented upon here and business interests see a great benefit to the colored farmers in these co-operative movements.

Regarding the canning success at Davilla the following comment is made by the demonstration agent:

"Starting in the Fall of 1925 the colored people in the Davilla community have canned and preserved nearly 28,000 cans, jars, and glasses of meats, vegetables, fruits and jellies. Two years supply or 700 units per family is the goal for the year. To stimulate this movement a Community Fair and Dinner will be held Aug. 13-14. Much of this material will be on exhibition together with all products of the Farm and Home. Demonstrations of canning and other things will be given. Good speaking and plenty of music both days.

This method of entertainment will be given at such places as provide a place for the presentation of such a program. These Good Will trips have proved very successful heretofore, and it is anticipated that they will be even more so this year.

MILK, FOODS AND WARM WEATHER GETS BLAME

INTERESTING SUMMARY OF PREVALENT VIOLENT ILLNESS COMMENTED UPON

During the past month more than a hundred cases of sudden violent illness has been reported to physicians in Cameron and surrounding country, and without exception the symptoms have been that of ptomaine poison.

A number of families suffering attacks were reported Sunday and Monday. Various causes have been assigned but desiring an accurate diagnosis of the situation The Herald has asked Dr. Leland Denson, city sanitarian to secure statements from as many Cameron doctors as possible and we are presenting them herewith.

Some hold to the milk infestation theory while others believe the poisoning is caused by foods generating impurities under certain heat temperatures. Others say it is a result of the extreme hot weather. In justice to milk dealers The Herald will say that a number of cases have been reported where persons had drunk no milk of any kind while on the other hand numerous cases have been reported where persons used milk.

Precautions have been taken to insure the utmost in sanitation at the dairies and the dairymen are co-operating in every way.

By way of suggestion it has been offered by some and this opinion concurred in by The Herald that restrictions of a more rigid sanitary nature should be thrown about the food handlers in the city. The city sanitairian should enforce better sanitation at the places where fruits, meats and other foods are sold that are exposed. Screening and other proper precautions should be taken.

The following statements are offered by the doctors who could be reached for a summary:

"It is a fermentation process which takes place in some food, whether vegetables, fruits or milk at a certain temperatue."—Dr. T. J. Denson.

"It is just a cholera marbus due to the excessive heat lowering the resistance of the digestive organs."—Dr. A. S. Epperson.

"I am convinced that it is a tyrotoxin generated by bacteria in milk."—Dr. M. C. Sapp.

"I am reliably informed that this same gastro-intestional disturbance is prevailing promiscuously in town and cities in Central Texas, which may be brought on by heat changes in foods of various kinds."—Dr. J. L. Denson.

"I think it is due to the milk; not necessarily any one milk, but all the milk in which there is a contamination which is prevalent in hot weather."—Dr. T. E. Crump.

"The cause of this gastro-intestional disturbance has not yet been determined."—Dr. W. R. Newton.

"The human body is a most perfect barometer and is subject to the various climatic and temperature conditions: As for example some individuals will have rheumatism during certain seasons. This gastro-intestional disturbance is probably due to the excessive seasonal temperature which some individuals are subject to—like some children are subject to diphtheria and some to scarlet fever while others are not."—Dr. Eduard Rischar.

"I think it is a fermentation in foods due to heat."—Dr. J. S. Hubert.

FARMERS PREPARING TO MAKE FIGHT ON COTTON PEST

Farmers are putting up a bold front in preparation to fight the hopper or cotton flea or any other depredating insect which may infest their cotton fields. Shelby Phillips and J. M. Gilchrist each have bought the Leggitt Dusters, a very complicated machine which permits five rows of cotton to be treated at one time, and about eight other smaller dusters have been purchased by others in preparation for a fight with the insects if necessary. So far the cotton flea seems to be laying off and may not do a great deal more damage this season but the machines purchased can be used to fight leaf worms in the event they appear as a menace to the maturing cotton. The Thorndale Mercantile has purchased large quantities of poison as a precaution against the appearance of the leaf worm.

GET AT THE CAUSE!

Many Cameron Folks Are Showing to Avoid Needless Suffering.

There's nothing more annoying than kidney weakness or inability to properly control the kidney secretions. Night and day alike, the sufferer is tormented and what with the burning and scalding, the attendant backache, headache and dizziness, life is indeed a burden. Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys—have brought peace and comfort to many Cameron people. Profit by this Cameron resident's experience:

S. E. Pitts, retired grocer, Nolan Ave., says: "My muscles were sore and lame and my back ached all the time. My kidneys also gave me a lot of trouble. After using Doan's Pills, the trouble left me."

The above statement was given July 2, 1919, and on March 3, 1925, Mr. Pitts added: "Whenever I use Doan's Pills, they always put my kidnneys in first class order. This confirms my former statement."

NOTICE CITY WATER USERS

On account of water conditions many people are compelled to use city water for washing and are inconvenienced because of its hardness.

To overcome this add one teaspoonful of Rub-No-More Washing Powder (the Original 5c Water Softener) to each gallon of city water. IT SAVES SOAP.

Besides its 15 household usages it is the only cleanser that will clean sinks and tubs and dissolve upon rinsing. No sand left to clog drain pipes.

BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

August 9, 1926.
First Baptist Church,
Cameron, Texas.

I am now in Paris; have had one week of almost perfect rest. I worshiped with the people whom I served as pastor 5 years yesterday morning. I worshiped with the First Baptist here last night. I greatly enjoyed the day.

I have been in three churches since I left home, and each one of them makes me think more of the church that I carry in my heart. I will leave Paris tomorrow, to travel some in Oklahoma. I do not know just where I will be but, expect to visit a number of churches this week.

Mrs. Hutcherson and I separated Friday. When she got back to her mother's where I got her nearly six years ago, she refused to go further.

I saw Dr. Groner last week and he said he was planning to be with you yesterday.

I hope you will give Dr. Carroll a good hearing next Sunday.

May the Father's best blessings abide upon each of you is the prayer of,

Your Pastor,
E. S. HUTCHERSON.

DR. HULAND CARROLL HERE NEXT SUNDAY.

Dr. Huland Carroll comes of the Carroll family. He is a nephew of Dr. B. H. Carroll who for more than a quarter of a century was pastor of the First Baptist church of Waco and who later founded the Seminary at Fort Worth and was president of it until his death. He is also a nepwew of Dr. J. M. Carroll, one of God's good men and truly great preacher and noted historian.

Dr. Carroll will preach at both the morning and evening service.

August 22nd. there will not be any preaching service at the church. There will be Sunday School at 9:45 and the Young People will meet at 7:00 The members of this church will visit with them that day.

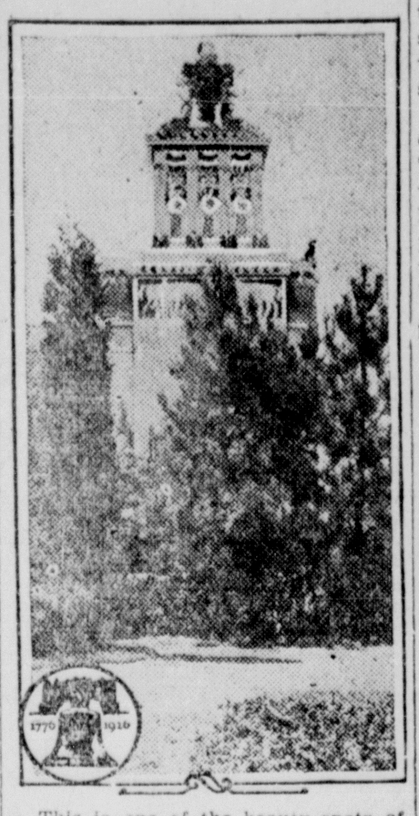
"A Thing of Beauty Is a Joy Forever"



This is one of the beauty spots of the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition in Philadelphia. The exposition celebrates the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. The view shows the tower of one of the main exhibit buildings rearing its head up from among the gorgeous landscape which artists have built around the giant structures which house exhibits from forty-three nations of the world. The Exposition continues until December 1.

FOREIGN MISSION WORK PRODUCTS GRATIFYING RESULTS.

That God is greatly blessing the labors of all our missionaries on the foreign fields where there are innumerable obstacles to the spread of the Gospel, is indicated in the following startling figures: During the past year a total of 12,134 baptisms were administered on our mission fields, or 22 1-2 baptisms to every American missionary, preacher, teacher and layman, while the record of our own Southland was only 10.7 baptisms to every ordained Baptist preacher.

If our foreign mission work received the support it richly deserves, the number of laborers on the field could be quickly doubled.

SOUTH PRESENTS CHALLENGE TO LARGER MISSION PROGRAM

While many parts of the South are probably better evangelized than in other sections of the United States, there is still spiritual destitution. For instance: over 100 towns and villages in Florida have no Baptist church and there is an average of only one Baptist church to each seventy square miles of territory in that state.

In Louisiana there are three whole congressional districts without a single Baptist church. In the same state there are eleven parishes with a population of 319,297 without a Baptist church, and 52 towns ranging in population from 1,000 to 10,0000 that have no Baptist church or preaching service.

This situation can be remedied only in the proportion that Southern Baptists greatly reinforce their home and state mission work through larger contributions to the Co-operative Program.

IS IT THE PREACHERS FAULT?

Dr. William Warren Landrum

"I am not sure, friends, that it is to the discredit of the church that some men do not wish to enter it. Unless a man is willing to become a Christian, being sold under sin, it is altogether natural that he should dislike to come to church. So long as a man accepts and practices the world's standards and thinks them good and right, why should he come to church to hear those standards condemned? If he thinks the best disposition of Sunday morning is to play golf, why should he patronize a church which condemns such a misuse of the precious time of the Lord's ray which was meant for the whole man, body, mind and soul? If a man works girls on starvation wages and thinks it right, why should he come to church and hear such business methods denounced? If a man lives off of gambling, whether at races or in bucket shops, how can he enjoy the trade standards of the sanctuary? If a man in renting his property at an exhorbitant figure, for immoral purposes, and has no conscience in regard to it, why should he wish to hear a sermon against the white slave traffic? If a man's god is money, why should he be pleased to hear the inquiry, "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" If a woman is living for pleasure and, therefore, dead while she liveth, why should she wish to be lectured by one who holds up the standard of the sanctuary?

One thing is sure. We cannot lower the standards of the sanctuary. The church of the living God, charged with witnessing for him and preach-his gospel cannot go to the world, as pleader or suppliant, whether the world ever comes to the church or not. Wisdom is justified of her children."

TRIP TO CALIFORNIA.

Mrs. C. M. Pierce of Hanover recently returned from a month's visit to her son, Coley Turnham of Long Beach, California. Mrs. Pierce was the recipient of many courtesies while away and said she went on long motor trips nearly every day of her stay in California visiting points of interest in Los Angeles, Hollywood, Beverly Hills and many places in southwest California. She went great distances but only traveled on paved streets and roads and was never more than a half mile from an eating place while away. She and Coley went to Cataline Island on a 1600 passenger boat. Coley suffered from sea sickness but Mrs. Pierce did not. This trip was a never to be forgotten experience.

Mrs. Pierce visited Angelus Temple and heard the much discussed evangelist, Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, preach.

Mrs. Pierce brings a message of greeting from her son, Coley Turnham, to all his old friends in Cameron where he expects to visit his mother here next year. He has been in California for three years and is now a traveling salesman for the Empire Tile and Marble Company under the company manager,, H. W. Norman. Mr. and Mrs. Norman assisted Coley to make his mother's stay in California pleasant and sent several interesting California pictures to C. M. Pierce to induce him to bring Mrs. Pierce to California to reside and to make their home near Coley who is so pleasantly situated in California.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dobbins, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Burns, and two sons, John and David, recently returned from a motor trip through scenic Ark. They camped in the Hot Springs National Park, where every convenience is offered to tourists and they visited a diamond cave near Jasper Ark., and had many wonderful experiences.

Herbert Phipps, formerly of Maysfield now of Baton Rouge, La., was in town last week greeting his many friends with a smile and handshake. He has been an employe of the Standard Oil Company at their Baton Rouge plant for some time and looked prosperous and happy.

STRAIGHT TALKS WITH AUNT EMMY

ON HOUSEHOLD BUDGETS

"Aunt Emmy," asked Helen, "won't you explain what is meant by a household budget? You said something the other day about budgets, but I don't seem clear in my mind about it."

"A budget is simply a plan," said Aunt Emmy. "You plan what you are going to do with your income. You divide your income systematically so that you can meet your needs. You lay aside a part of your income for rent, other parts for food, clothing, heat, light, telephone, recreation, savings and so on."

"How are you going to know how much you should spend for each thing—on rent for instance, Aunty?" asked Helen.

"Experts have studied the question carefully and have worked out budgets to suit every income. Of course, you can alter these typical budgets slightly to suit your particular needs. For example, the average budget that covers incomes of from $2,000 to $10,000 a year divides your income into six parts. Ten per cent for savings, twenty per cent for rent, twenty per cent for food, twenty per cent for what is called betterment and includes education, amusement, entertainment, books, music, sports; fifteen per cent for clothes and fifteen per cent for operating expenses.

"No matter how you change the other items you must not change the savings allowance—except to increase it. A great majority of men who reach sixty are dependent on relatives or charity. If they had saved only ten cents out of every dollar, they would not have been in that plight. There is nothing like money in the savings bank to help you through the emergencies that come in everybody's life. If everybody kept one year's income in the savings bank, much misery would be averted. If you always have enough money to see you through one year, you are pretty safe. Beyond that, it is wise to let your money accumulate until you have enough to buy some good securities. Your banker will advise you about the securities that suit your needs."

"But, Aunt Emmy, suppose you wanted to alter your budget?" inquired Helen. "How would you know how to do it? A young married couple might start on a certain budget and then, when they had children to feed and educate, they might want to change it."

"Well, my dear, if they were in doubt about their financial affairs, they could always consult their banker. That is why it is so good to establish friendly relations with a bank when you start out in life. Any banker will be glad to advise young people about making their money go farther."

WHAT THE FEDERAL RESERVE HAS DONE FOR BUSINESS

What the Federal Reserve System has done for business is summed up in these points: It has (1) given business greater confidence in the ability of the banks to care for credit needs; (2) introduced an elastic currency and eliminated money panics; (3) eliminated extreme seasonal fluctuations in rates of interest; (4) brought business safely through the war and post-war crises; (5) saved millions of dollars to business through its efficient system for check collection; (6) made the gold reserve more effective as a basis for credit extension in times of extraordinary demand; (7) aided in the financing of foreign and domestic trade by developing a discount market for acceptances; (8) provided a means for handling huge financial operations of the government without interference with business; (9) aided in the re-establishment of the gold standard abroad; (10) given us an experienced banking organization which will assist us in meeting the future exigencies of business at home and abroad with courage and confidence.

Less Meat If Kidneys Bother

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder troubles you.

No man or woman who eats too much meat can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Big meat eating may develop uric acid, which excites the kidneys; they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood; then we get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleepiness and urinary disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus often ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications.

INDIGESTION

Black-Draught Brings Relief for Tight, Bloated Feeling.

"I had indigestion," says Mr. W. B. Bouknight, of Ballentine, S. C. "Working out, I got in the habit of eating teal, for which I soon paid by having a tight, blocted feeling after meals. This made me very uncomfortable.

"I would feel stupid and drowsy, didn't feel like working. I was told it was indigestion. Some one recommended Black-Draught and I took it after meals. I soon could eat anything any time.

"I use it for colds and biliousness and it will knock out a cold and carry away the bile better and quicker than any liver medicine I have ever found."

Eating too fast, too much, or faulty chewing of your food, often causes discomfort after meals. A pinch of Black-Draught, washed down with a swallow of water, will help to bring prompt relief.

Black-Draught gently helps the over-taxed organs to perform their regular functions, in such cases, ridding the system of poisons that might accumulate.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS POLICY OF CALLES TOWARD CATHOLIC CHURCH

Philbdelphia, Aug. 5.—The Knights of Columbus, in annual convention today, unanimously adopted a statement protesting against the policy of President Calles in the religious situation in Mexico.

The statement called the attention of the American government to "remind it that the representatives of Calles have insulted and degraded and expelled American citizens, men and women, under circumstances that are abhorrent to our conception of constitutional government."

"We warn our fellow American citizens," the statement said, "that they cannot endure at their very doorstep, with impunity, the Russianizing of Mexico."

After stating that religious and civil liberties have been denied in Mexico, the statement asserts that "all of this system under American auspices, sustained by American executive authority, which, in the first place, while refusing to recognize Lenine and Trotsky, have by executive order of recognition, accepted Calles and Obregon, who are the enthusiastic supporters of the bolsheviki concept of government."

"We further point to the significance of the patronage bestowed upon these military despots by the continuance of such recognition," the statement continues, "and particularly, by the discriminating favoritism shown to Calles by the continuance of the embargo, which makes the Calles ascenency possible.

"We call upon the president and the state department to put an end to this ignominous contempt which has been shown by Calles for Americans' appeal and to resolutely demand protection for American citizens and that they be treated with the same consideration and respect which is shown to Mexican citizens in this country."

The statement calls upon the American Federation of Labor and its affiliated organizations to co-operate in safeguarding not only American rights but the "hard-won victory of labor itself."

"To this end," the statement concluded, "we pledge the support and cooperation of eight hundred thousand men who love God and who, in the discharge of their duty, fear not the force of evil, either on earth or from hell."

Washington, Aug. 5.—A reiteration that every precaution was being taken to safeguard the treaty rights of American nationals in Mexico was the only state department comment today on the statement of the Knights of Columbus relating to the Mexican religious situation.

WALTER ROESLER WRITES AGRICULTURAL STORY

BEN ARNOLD BOY BACK FROM COURSE AT COLLEGE STATION

Walter Roesler, who resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Roesler on a farm near Ben Arnold, has just returned from College Station, where he attended the seventeenth annual Farmers Short Course as a guest of H. R. Safford, executive vice president of the Missouri Pacific Lines. All cost of his trip and stay in College Station, including board, lodging and incidental expenses, was paid by the Missouri Pacific Lines as a prize for writing the best story on "The Agricultural Possibilities of Milam County," a contest in which more than 40 farm boys and girls took part.

The story written by young Roesler received high comment from Mr. Safford, who declared it one of the most interesting of more than 50 received in the contest. "Young Roesler shows that he knows Milam county and is thoroughly awake to the situation as it regards agriculture" Mr. Safford said.

Young Roesler deals with soil and climatic conditions in Milam county, and stresses the agricultural possibilities of this section of the state. In his story he tells of the production of various crops and the opportunity for further development in the farm industry.

The story as written by the Milam county winner follws:

"Milam County has an area of more than one thousand square miles, or 480,353 acres, which lies in the east central part of Texas, about fifty miles south of Waco and about sixty miles northeast of Austin. It is bounded on the north by Falls and Bell counties; on the east by Robertson county; on the south by Burleson and Lee counties and on the west by Williamson county.

Cameron, the county seat, is a beautiful city of about five thousand people, and has two railroads—the Santa Fe, which crosses the county west to southeast; and the Southern Pacific railroad, which crosses the county north to south; the International—Great Northern railroad, also crosses the southern part of Milam County. There are a number of good paved roads in the county.

In elevation above sea level, Milam County ranges from about 450 feet in the southwestern part to about 1,000 feet in the extreme north and western part. The greater part of the county lies between 400 to 600 feet above sea level. It is drained by the San Gabriel and Little Rivers, which empty into the Brazos outside of the county.

Milam County has a mild and healthful climate, with a comparative long growing season of 245 days, which are out of freezing temerature from March 14th until November 15th. In most years the rainfall is well distributed throughout the growing season.

There are two grades of soil in Milam County: the black soil, which is mostly north of the International-Great Northern railroad, this is an underlaying and rolling prairie that sells from $100 to $175 an acre. Most all land south of the International-Great Northern railroad is sandy, which is noted for truck, and the prices range from about $25 to $50 per acre.

The average cotton acreage of Milam County is about 196,000 acres, harvesting about 43,000 bales; corn acreage about 66,000, harvesting about 2,000,000 bushels; oats about 7,000 acres, harvesting 293,000, etc. All of these plants are raised on the black soil. The sandy soil is noted for truck such as potatoes, Irish and sweet; melons, peanuts, peas, tomatoes and fruits of all kinds.

American Rubber Men Force British Away From Restrictions

The proposed new rubber restriction policy, which was to have become effective August 1, according to plans promulgated by the British, was forced to be abandoned, and, commenting on this situation today, Harvey S. Firestone, President of the Firestone Tire & Rubber Company, said:

"Activities of American rubber manufacturers have prevented the British from applying their new 20 per cent restriction program, announced April 26, setting the minimum price of rubber at 42 cents as compared to the minimum price set in November 1922, of 25 cents a pound, or 17 cents per pound higher.

"If this restriction had been carried into effect it would have meant an additional fixed charge against American automobilists of approximately $136,000 a year.

"Soon after this policy was announced, setting the minimum price at 42 cents, rubber dropped to this figure and during the entire month of July sold around 42 cents. The last sale at 3 o'olock was the official sale and set the price for the day.

"American manufacturers were active and bought rubber at prices necessary to prevent this 20 per cent restriction for the next three months period.

"The last sale, made at 12 o'clock, the official closing time, due to this being an English holiday, was made a 20 1-8 pence, or 40 1-2 cents. If this sale had been made under 20 pence, or around 39 cents, the 20 per cent restriction program would have been effective during August, September and October. Immediately after this sale was made, the New York market dropped two cents for August delivery.

"We will have 100 per cent releases during the coming quarter, but what the next move by the British will be is problematical."

"I suffered with dreadful pains in my sides during . . . My side hurt so bad it nearly killed me. I had to go to bed and stay sometimes two weeks at a time. I could not work and I just dragged around the house.

"I got very thin—I went from 126 pounds down to less than 100. My mother had long been a user of Cardui and she knew what a good medicine it was for this trouble, so she told me to get some and take it. I sent to the store after it and before I had taken the first bottle I began to improve.

"My sides hurt less and I began to improve in health. . . The Cardui acted as a fine tonic and I do not feel like the same person. I am so much better. I am well now.

"I have gained 10 pounds and am still gaining. My sides do not trouble me at all.

1926 COTTON YIELD PUT AT 15,621,000

INCREASE IN YIELD INDICATED IN REPORT OF GOVERNMENT

Washington, Aug. 9.—A gain of 253,000 bales in the prospective cotton of this year as compared with a forecast made a fortnight ago was shown today in the government's semi-monthly cotton report which placed indicated production at 15,621,000 bales of 500 pounds gross.

The condition of the crop declined from 70.7 per cent of normal to 69.8 per cent between July 16 and Aug. 1, but as the decline was less than usual the indicated production showed an increase over that forecast July 16.

The improvement in prospects offered chiefly last week in July and due largely to the fact that the number of hoppers decreased and the cotton began squaring and blooming much more freely, the crop reporting board announced.

"The crop is in a critical stage of its development," the board said, "and fruiting will be materially affected by weather conditions during the next month to six weeks. Almost everywhere throughout the cotton belt, the crop is expressed as being from a week to a month late, so that it will need ample time in the fall for maturing. There is menace of material damage by the boll weevils should rainy weather come during the remainder of the season.

The indicated yield per acre is placed at 158.3 pounds, compared with 155.86 pounds indicated on July 16. and 167.2 pounds produced last year.

The condition of the crop on Aug. 1, by states follows:

Virginia, 72; North Carolina, 70; South Carolina, 53; Georgia, 59; Florida, 74; Missouri, 77; Tennessee, 70; Alabama, 67; Mississippi, 68; Louisiana, 67; Texas, 73; Oklahoma, 79; Arkansas, 71; New Mexico, 90; Arizona, 88; California, 98. All other states, 68; Lower California (Old Mexico), 69.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 9.—The government report showing condition of 69.8 and indicated crop of 15,621,000 bales was much more bearish than expected and as a result prices immediately dropped 66 to 67 points from the levels existing just before the bureau report was issued and 83 or more below Saturday's close. October dropped to 16.40 and December to 16.30.

New York, Aug. 9.—Cotton broke approximately $3.50 a bale here today following announcement of the government crop forecast which was fully 15,000,000 bales more than some of the private estimates in circulation last week.

MILAM COUNTY PROGRAM AT COLLEGE STATION

By the Farmer's Short Course directors at A. & M. College last Thursday was designed Milam County Day and many cars carried interested visitors from Cameron, Buckholts and other places in Milam County to the College Campus for the exercises.

Music by the Cameron Junior Prize Winning Band was featured through the day and their night program broadcasted over radio. Much praise of the band directed by Prof. Fairleigh was heard on the campus and listeners in Milam County were delighted with the program broadcasted.

The average age of members of the band is eleven years. The band won first prize for juniors at the East Texas contest held this spring in Waco. Many of the parents of the band members went over to College to boost for them on Thursday. The uniforms of the band were admired by many and their program reflected credit upon Prof. Fairleigh, their director, and Cameron, their home town.

Among the Cameron boys, who spent last Thursday in College Station were Don Barrett and Robert Lee Barrett, Garland Beard, Marion Graham, Frank Hubert, Ben Atkinson, John A. Smith, Rudolph Michalka, Freeman Slocomb, Hillyard Thomas, John Watson, Frank Newton, F. E. Jackson, Charlie Smith, Harold Jackson. The following Buckholts members of the band were present: Major Young, Glen Kahler, Seth Corley. The following Cameron girls played in the band: Frances Hobson, Maidie Watson, Geralding Lindsey, Gladys Jewel Copus, Gladys Kinard, Theda Marie Sheppard, Doris Fairleigh, Paddy Fairleigh. Regrets were expressed that the entire membership could not be present on this auspicious occasion. An attractive picture of the band was made on the steps of one of the College buildings and the picture was a feature in Sunday's Houston Post Dispatch.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ-destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.

Many of these advantages you will recognize at a glance. It is all steel, bolted and riveted, and so rigid that squeaks, rattles and distortions, are as unlikely as in a steel building. Doors are so hung that a man may hang on an open door while the car is being driven over rough roads, without springing it out of true.

And it is so designed and constructed as to permit the use in a totally new manner of a high baked enamel, most lustrous and lasting finish.

There has been constant improvement in the chassis from the first Essex shipped. And only by the accumulation of the resources, the information, experience, and the skill that have resulted from the building of 350,000 Essex "Sixes" was it possible to create this car which we ask you to inspect and to drive as the best looking, best value, best Essex ever built.

INDUSTRIAL ACCIDENTS

Accidents to people employed in the industries have long been a most potent source of suffering and poverty, and they increase the cost of production. Modern sentiment declares that those suffering from such mishaps should be liberally compensated, and the payments for this purpose are one of the large expenses of modern business. The condition of many families where the money earner has met with a crippling accident, is most pathetic.

It seems a terrible thing that there are around 600,000 accidents each year that cause more than four weeks disability, and a large proportion of them have very serious and tragic results.

An earnest effort to get at and remove the causes for this unfortunate waste of man power is being made by the American Engineering council, which has 20 committees studying conditions in 2000 industrial plants. It is estimated that 75 per cent of this loss could be avoided.

Manufacturing producers everywhere should realize that a plant which is well equipped against such accidents will be one in which production will not be much interrupted, and their workers will appreciate this effort for their welfare.

And wage-earners ought to realize that in a great many cases, probably the majority, such accidents are due to their own carelessness, and might occur in many cases even if the best safety appliances were put in.

It is amazing what chances many people will take when they are working around dangerous machinery, in railroad yards, etc. They seem to think that there is something fine and smart in taking chances that might lead to a crippling accident. The wives and children who are dependent on them will not see it in that light.

NEWSPAPER NOVICES.

Every year a procession of young people march up to the newspaper offices and ask for work in the field of journalism. It is one that looks very fascinating to many of them. They see it giving them a chance to meet many kinds of people and obtain access to interesting things without cost, and it looks like a position of novelty and adventure.

But after a year or two a multitude of these novices drop out. Many quit because they are not able to measure up to its exacting standards. Their carelessness works mischief in the newspaper game with its pitfalls, and they are invited to seek occupations where the consequences of error are less serious.

Many of them quit for the reason that they can not "see any money" in this field. They look merely at the pay envelope, and they say that it is not sufficient to offer them all they want of pleasure and luxuries.

If people have that money making motive so very strongly, it is just as well that they should quit this game. It is not a big money making field, except for a limited few. It may not be advisable for people to stay in it unless they feel a distinct urge for it, a love for printer's ink, and respect for its power and usefulness.

But those who stay in it, if they labor faithfully and intelligently, will always find a demand for their work. It is essential service that the community must have. And as the years go on, they will feel that whatever the world has or has not brought to them, it has given them the friendship of the people, growing intelligence, the power to do many good things for their home towns and their country, and acpuaintance with a great many interesting people and things. To men and women of a certain temperament, such results are worth more than money.

UNIVERSAL CONTRIBUTION.

During the war we made a wonderful success of our national effort, by the spirit that prevailed that everyone had to contribute something to the common cause. Some of course were so much out of sympathy with the purposes of the war, that they did not contribute anything, but in the main that spirit pervaded the whole people, and a wonderful amount of cooperation was obtained,

If the same spirit could get hold of our people now, that everyone was to try to do something for the benefit of Cameron or whatever community is one's home, we should accomplish a degree of progress that would seem amazing.

Many of us are quiet and obscure people who feel we have no influence But all can do something. When we read the newspapers and try to keep informed on the problems of government, and vote at primaries and elections, we make such a contribution. When we make our home places more attractive by neatness and beautification, we contribute.

LOCALITY PREJUDICES

Some people look with contempt on conditions existing in distant states and countries, while some think that everything a long distance from home is fine and wonderful, while everything in their home locality is mean and crude. It is hard to know which attitude is more lacking in intelligence.

While it is fine for people to be loyal to their home surroundings, the entertaining of prejudices between sections and countries works against unity and co-operation.

Probably much of the ill feeling manifested against American tourists in Europe, is due to the tendency of many of those tourists to speak contemptuously of those countries. They are not slow to express the idea that those famous old cities are far behind the times, and a good old home town in the U. S. A. is infinitely better. That may be true, and yet it is as ill mannered for tourists to let it be known that they think so, as it would be to be entertained in someone's home and spend your time in ridiculing their furniture and habits.

The same principal applies when people travel in our own home localities and speak warmly of their advantages. But when they give the impression that they look with contempt on the localities they are visiting, they convey the idea that the regions where they come from are producing uncultivated people.

The gracious traveller who distributes smiles and compliments, and praises the localities which he sees for whatever virtues they have, and is silent about their faults, is fine advertising for the locatlity from which he came. People say they would like to see the city or state that produces such good examples of culture.

NAME OF MRS. FERGUSON ON RUN OFF BALLOT

EFFORT TO KEEP MOODY OFF FAILS—HOT CAMPAIGN LOOMS FOR AUGUST 28

Dallas, Aug. 9.—The battle for the democratic nomination for governor of Texas is to be fought all over again between Governor Miram A. Ferguson and Attorney General Dan Moody.

In the midst of threats of court action to disqualify Moody and followed by a heated speech by Moody, the democratic state executive committee today certified the names of Mrs. Ferguson and Moody to go on the ballot for the run-off primary Aug. 28.

The committee action followed shortly after an official canvass of the July primary vote by a subcommittee, which showed that Moody lacked 1,770 of having a majority over all candidates. Under the Texas election law the executive committee must certify the names of the two highest candidates for a run-off where the returns do not show a majority for any candidate.

No Mention of Ma's Promise

No mention was made in the committee proceeding of Mrs. Ferguson's promise to retire from the race or of her announced intention to resign from her office at the close of the special legislative session she has called for September 13.

The official canvass showed that Moody had 409,732 votes and that the total of all other democratic gubernatorial candidates was 411,502. No official returns were received from two counties, Edwards and Gray, but the committee's report stated that unofficial returns from these two counties indicated that the official vote would not change the total result.

Move Against Moody Killed

An attempt to have the committee consider a petition asking that Moody be disqualified as a candidate on the ground of alleged irregularities in campaign contributions failed, when the committee chairman, Arthur Eidson of Hamilton, ruled that the matter was judicial and since the committee was not a judicial body, it could not determine the questions raised by the petition. The document was received and placed on file.

The petition was read by A. L. Curtis of Belton, Texas a close personal friend of the Fergusons, who appeared as attorney for Mrs. Ferguson.

Allege Campaign Irregularities

It recited that Moody's campaign expense statement filed with the secretary of state, showed that R. L. Bobbitt of Laredo, candidate for the legislature, and Lee Satterwhite of Amarillo, former speaker and candidate to succeed himself, had contributed $250 each to Moody's campaign.

The petition alleged that this was a violation of the election law, and quoted chapters of the law prohibiting candidates to contribute to the campaign funds of other candidates.

Claim Moody Forfeited Rights

Because of this alleged violation, the petition held that Moody had forfeited his right to be a candidate, because he "had assented to, connived at, and therefore was a principal in such acts of violation."

The document further said that these alleged illegal contributions contained in Moody's expense statement "operated to make all Moody's campaign expense statement filed with the secretary of state false."

"There is doubt," concluded the petition, "as to whether quo warranto proceedings would suffice to clear up the questions involved. Therefore, we state that we will reserve the right to seek relief in the courts."

The reference to the courts was considered a prediction that the matter would be taken to the courts to have Moody disqualified.

Committee Without Authority

Chairman Eidson then ruled that the committee was without authority to consider the petition, and the body thereupon adopted the report of the sub-committee which recommended that the names of both Mrs. Ferguson and Moody be certified to the counties for the run-off primary. Action of the committee was unanimous, as the law clearly makes it mandatory for the body to certify the two highest names in cases where there is not a majority.

Since Mrs. Ferguson's formal withdrawal from the primary race was not forthcoming the committee had only a perfunctory duty before it.

Expected Fireworks Start

The expected fire works of the meeting did not materialize until just before adjournment when Moody arose to address the committee, having been invited in a motion by B. Y. Cummings of Wichita Falls to make such reply to the petition as he desired "in order to have the record complete."

"In the first place, this instrument was not filed in good faith," Moody declared, his ire clearly drawn, "I have no personal criticism of any one, but I will say that no informed lawyer in the state of Texas could honestly urge that this committee has power to consider such matters as presented by this petition.

Charges Sinister Purpose

"It was presented here for sinister political purposes. It was presented for the benefit of these newspaper reporters here. I denounce it as false and without foundation in fact.

"It is not a legal document in any sense of the word. It is not justified by a single line of law on the statute books. It was brought in here for political purposes only.

"Having denounced these accusations as false, I will file a written reply.

Owes Not Apologies

"I have engaged in a campaign before the people of Texas trying to present myself as a clean young man before the people of my state. I tried to maintain the campaign on a high plane. I did so, and I owe no apology to any one or to my conscience. I entered it clean, and I have ended it clean, and I am as far above this thing (waving the petition above his head) as the east is from the west."

Moody finished amid cheers from his supporters and shouts of: "They're dying hard," and "they're hard losers."

As soon as Moody had finished, the committee adjourned, and then the Moody and Ferguson supporters separated like two ocean waves. Ferguson moved slowly down the aisle, friends stopping him to shake hands, and he finally worked out of the hall amidst little eddies of supporters who stopped to confer with him every few feet.

Call Moody Supporters' Meeting

As Ferguson receded, Moody's supporters gathered at the other side of the room for a meeting. Oscar B. Colquit of Dallas, former governor, jumped on a chair and called Moody's men to gather for a meeting.

This meeting organized with election of officers and voted to hold a mass meeting of Texas voters at Fair Park in Dallas next Saturday, Aug 14 at 1 a. m.

"I suggest that we hold a mass meeting to elect Dan Moody governor on Aug. 28, by 500,000 majority," shouted Colquitt. "I have called this informal meeting to start Moody's run-off primary campaign."

Promise Administration Probe

Lee Satterwhite declared that insofar as he was concerned an investigation of the Ferguson administration will be launched when the legislature convenes."

"In view of the charge of fraud in Moody's campaign read before the state executive committee this afternoon," said Satterwhite, "I am in favor of making an investigation of the conduct of state affairs just to see really who has been guilty of fraud."

NEW TEST WELL TO BE DRILLED IN THE DAVILLA SECTION

Between fifteen hundred and two thousand acres of land has been blocked and leased about 12 miles north of Thorndale and within one wile of Davilla by A. J. Iselmeyer and associates of St. Louis, on which a test will be made for the liquid glod. It is thought that if there be oil in the vicinity that it will be found at a shallow depth, however, the company holding the leases are reputed to be able to go any depth in the event it is thought profitable to do so. A number of Thorndale citizens having acreage in this vicinity have signed leasing contracts, and actual operations will probably be started at an early date.

TEACHING CO-OPERATION

If people are to become useful citizens, the relation of the individual to the home town ought to be one of the most important subjects to be emphasized in education.

If people grow up with their heads crammed with general information and training for some special occupations, but do not feel that they are partners in a movement for producing a better community, such an equipment for good Americanism and good citizenship is faulty. The idea should be impressed from an early age, that these young people own a share in their home town, and that it is up to them to look after that share by doing their part to make it a better town.

Selection of Dairy Cattle Breeds Influenced by Shows

A good typical Ayrshire sire Putting on the finishing touches

Many a man who is undecided as to the breed of dairy cattle that he will select has been influenced in making his decision by the animals of a particular breed that he has seen in public.

The individual breeder secures a great deal of advertising as the result of exhibiting at fairs, or in offering good animals at public sales. It gives people a chance to see and know the kind of stock that a man is breeding and paves the way for future business.

It is essential that special care and attention be given dairy animals far in advance of the time that they are to be exhibited or sold. Exhibiting or selling animals publicly in their every day clothes is poor advertising and puts them at a disadvantage when the competition is keen. It takes several weeks to put a dairy animal in good show condition and what applies to fitting for show applies as well to fitting for sale.

It is important that the dairy animal to be exhibited or sold be in good flesh. A good covering of flesh adds to size, increases smoothness and indicates that the animal is thrifty and in good health. Dairy animals being fitted need extra feed.

Stabling and blanketing are great aids in putting the hair and hide in condition. By stabling in summer, the animal is protected from the hot sun which makes the hide harsh and stiff to the touch. A roomy box stall that is kept clean and well bedded provides desirable quarters. Continuous blanketing helps keep the animal clean, sweats the hide, thus improving its handling qualities and makes the hair lay to the body. The blanket need not be expensive but it must be tied on securely.

Every dairy animal that is to be exhibited should have the hair clipped from the entire body about three weeks previous to the date of the show or sale. This will get rid of the old hair and allow a new, even growth to develop which will greatly improve the appearance and increase the selling value of the animal.

A point often overlooked in the preparation of a dairy animal for show or sale is that of training to lead and stand properly. An untrained animal cannot display its good points to advantage if it combats the efforts of the attendant to exhibit it properly. A little time spent each day in training to handle properly will save effort and embarrassment at the show or sale and increase the financial return.

While in the show or sale ring, the man in charge of an animal should have one main thought in mind, namely that of showing the animal to advantage. By this is meant that when it stands, its feet are properly placed, back straight and head alert. Any movement on the part of the attendant or animal should be as graceful as possible. Until the ribbons are placed or the auctioneer's hammer falls, take no chances.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. NORA REICHERT

Oh Nora, you have left us
Sad and lonely, how we
Miss you no one knows.

Here on earth we are
But strangers, till our road
In Canaan ends.

Safely passed the road of Danger. Here but as Pilgrims reign.

For our home is there above,
And in Heaven we will love, you know.

Nora lives no longer now,
We know she is not dead but sweetly sleeping.

Asleep in Jesus, blessed sleep.
From which none ever wakes to weep.

A calm and undisturbed repose.
Unbroken by the last of foes.

Asleep in Jesus, Oh, how sweet!
To be for such a slumber rest.

How she suffered, no one knows,
Though the awful pains she bears no more.

Weep not for her dear loved ones,
For God knows best and called her home above to rest.

Yes, Nora, asleep in Jesus,
Peaceful rest. Securely shall her Ashes lie. Awaiting the summons from on high.

Some sweet day all things will be different.
Some sweet day the tide will turn.
Some day we will all meet you again dear Nora,
In a better world far beyond.

In a land where pain and sorrow,
We will bear no more.

A place is vacant in your home,
A place that can be filled no more.

Yes, Nora is sweetly sleeping,
Sleeping, and on earth no more.
But in Heaven we will meet her,
Meet her there to part no more.

A Friend.

"I suffered with dreadful pains in my sides during . . . My side hurt so bad it nearly killed me. I had to go to bed and stay sometimes two weeks at a time. I could not work and I just dragged around the house.

WHY GOVERNMENT PRICE FIXING WON'T WORK

One of the most persistent fallacies is government price-fixing on competitive commodities. There is already government price-fixing in commodities and services where competition plays no part in price determination. These are railway transportation, electricity, gas, telephone and telegraph, and so on. Here government price-fixing is solely to protect the consumer. There are two fatal objections to government price-fixing for agricultural products, which represent the most competitive business in the world. These are, first, that it will not work; second, that it is always done for the consumer as against the producer.

Government price-fixing for agricultural products would work if at the same time the government regulated wages, profits, middlemen's margins, the production of all commodities and the rationing of all consumers. In short, if the population were enlisted in one vast army, directed and rationed, price-fixing would work, but otherwise not. If the price is fixed on the wheat the farmer sells, then he cannot keep on producing wheat if wages or the cost of harvesting machinery rise, or if the cost of other material he buys rises. So the next step would be the fixation of other prices, and yet other prices.

The United States government fixed the price of wheat but once in our history, and then it was to benefit consumers, not producers. The government might, in an emergency, fix some agricultural prices for the purpose of elevating such prices. Such action would inevitably and speedily lead to outcry from city consumers and a consequent reversal of policy. Indeed, the consumers, not the producers, are most likely to demand and secure food price regulation by government authorities. The farmer, therefore, who favors any form of governmental price-fixing is working against his own interests. He is putting his head into a noose.—James E. Boyle, Professor of Rural Economics, Cornell University, in the Banker-Farmer.

STRAIGHT TALKS WITH AUNT EMMY

On Fifteen Per Cent Bonds

Mrs. Norris beamed as she greeted Aunt Emmy and exclaimed, "Now I know all my financial worries are over! I wanted to tell you right away—"

"What have you bought this time?" Aunt Emmy demanded suspiciously.

"Well, I haven't paid the money over yet, but I have found the loveliest investment where my money will be perfectly safe and will earn a nice income for me right away," Mrs. Norris said. "I'm going to buy bonds, good safe bonds, that will pay me fifteen per cent interest—"

"Wait a minute, you'll have to go some, Maud Norris, to tell me about 'good safe bonds' that pay fifteen per cent!" Aunt Emmy broke in.

"They are safe,—the man said so and this booklet says so too!"

"Do you know what a bond is?" asked Aunt Emmy.

"No, but it's awfully safe. I'm sure of that," Mrs. Norris said. "Everybody knows that bonds are safe—"

"My dear, some bonds are safe and some are not. When you buy a bond you simply lend your money to the company putting out the bonds. Bond issues are secured generally by the company mortgaging or pledging some of its property. In other words, it offers a certain asset as security that it will return your money to you on the date the bond matures. It agrees to pay you a certain sum each year for the use of your money, usually something between five and eight per cent. No company can afford to pay too much for its money—and as to fifteen per cent bonds—why it would be very unusual for a company to be able to earn enough to enable it to pay fifteen per cent for the privilege of using other people's money,—moreover, if it is good enough to borrow money at all it can borrow it more cheaply than that!"

"Oh dear!" wailed Mrs. Norris, "then a bond isn't a good safe investment—"

"Don't jump at conclusions so fast!" said Aunt Emmy. "I did not say that. A bond is as safe as a church if the company that issues it is financially sound, has a high credit rating and is making money. Before you buy bonds assure yourself that the company behind them is above reproach."

"But the man who told me about these fifteen per cent bonds was so earnest—I felt sure I could believe him."

"Don't turn over any money to him until you have some advice on the bonds from your bank," admonished Aunt Emmy. "Then, if you find out that the bonds are questionable you will escape another bad investment."

Mason County, Michigan, bankers are pushing hard to replace scrub stock with pure-bred cattle. The plan as outlined by the county agent is to purchase young pure-bred sires and place them wherever a farmer is found who is willing to co-operate in the proposition. The bankers will advance the purchase price and take a note for one year without interest. The idea is to make it as easy as possible for the farmers to procure thoroughbreds.
